MAUD POWELL IS A GREAT ARTIST

RESPONDED TO NUMEROUS ENCORES AT KEREDGE LAST EVENING. LEAVES LASTING IMPRESSION.

The performance given by Maud Powell at the Keredge theater last evening was one long to be remembered by the music lovers of the copper country. It would be impossible to make any comparison between Madame Powell and other violinists who have visited the copper country, as she seems to stand in a class by herself.

The artist appeared in a beautiful gown of orange hue, covered with bead work. Her manner was simple and unaffected and she responded freely to the numerous encores, playing several selections by request. Possessing a wonderful control over her instrument, her tone ranged from that of the humming bird to the full and complicated tone of an orchestra. In all her renditions, her body swayed to the rhythm of the music, and she seemed lost in her art.

Her work was so perfect, every tone so clear and bell like and her technique so wonderful that the audience sat entranced. In the execution of Schubert's "Serenade," the harmony was so exquisite that the audience waited breathlessly to hear what new chords the next movement of her bow would strike. In Hubay's "Zephyr," where she muted the strings of her instrument, the music seemed to come floating over the audience. In the Chopin-

JOE PETERSON'S PLAIN.

Ishpeming Man Says Copper Country Gave Him a Bad Deal.

Joe Peterson, the Ishpeming man who was arrested in Houghton a week or ten days ago on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, asserts that he was given a bad deal, says the Mining Journal's Ishpeming correspondent. He says that he lost $104 in a poker game, then borrowed $10 from Proprietor Mann of the Douglas House. He returned to the game and within a few minutes he lost the $10. After this he wrote a check for $25. He claims he told Mr. Mann he would not be able to meet the check for two weeks or so when he was to receive money from the concern for which he is working.

When it was found that there was no money to Peterson's credit in the bank upon which the check was drawn and after Peterson was arrested the Ishpeming man applied to a justice for a warrant for the arrest of the man in whose place he lost the money. He said he felt that the Houghton men were not giving him a square deal. The justice, he says, made out a warrant that meant nothing, but when he showed that he meant business the gambler who won his money came up to his rescue offering to settle the costs in the case, also to pay the $25 that he had secured from Mr. Mann on the check and in borrowed cash. This offer was made a few minutes before the train was due to leave Houghton for Ishpeming. Peterson states that three of the four men, in Peterson Saturday called on the Ishpeming man when the gambler told him that he would settle up the affair, and that he might return home.

Peterson Saturday called on the Ishpeming police officers to ascertain if they had received instructions from Houghton to cause his arrest for his non-appearance at the hearing last week. They advised him that they had heard nothing from the Houghton county authorities and Peterson says that in case he is taken back there he will retaliate by taking steps to have the proprietor of the gambling house brought into court.

Eccentric Work Basket. There are work bags made of turtles. Could anything be odder? And yet they are not unattractive, queer as they sound. The shell of the turtle is lined with some gay silk, and the tail is pulled over and inserted in the mouth, then used as a handle. They make nice sewing baskets, and will undoubtedly appeal to the lovers of the eccentric.

To Remove Mildew.

If kid gloves have become spotted with mildew they should be placed in a bottle with a lump of ammonia about the size of a walnut; cork the bottle tightly and leave them for a short time, when the mildew spots will quite disappear. If left too long, however, the ammonia will rot the stiches; so they must be watched. An air-tight box will do equally well as a bottle.

BELIEVED TO BE
CASE OF SUICIDE

FAILURE OF AN ALLEGED HOLD-UP SAID TO HAVE BEEN CAUSE

—SOUTH RANGE MAN VICTIM.

Herman Jameson, aged 28 years, of South Range, is said to have committed suicide yesterday afternoon after the failure of an alleged attempt to hold up Matt Harju, aged 40, a teamster in the employ of Uitti Bros. store. Jameson is reported to have shot Harju with a 32-calibre revolver, one bullet entering his cheek and coming out of his mouth and another lodging in his coat underneath his right arm. Harju then grappled with Jameson and overpowered him, throwing him from the sleigh, after which he whipped up his horses and drove on to South Range. The body of Jameson was afterward found on the road near the scene of the hold-up with a bullet wound in the head.

Harju states that he was driving to South Range from Hurontown and had with him his day's collections, which amounted to several hundred dollars. The two men had known each other for years and when Harju met Jameson on the road he offered him a ride. Harju states that Jameson learned during their conversation that his day's collections were unusually large and a few minutes later, Harju states, Jameson stealthily drew a revolver and fired at his head, the bullet entering his right cheek and coming out in his mouth. Another bullet found lodging in his sheepskin coat. Harju then succeeded in throwing Jameson off the sleigh and got away as fast as possible.

Despair through his inability to secure work and the subsequent suffering of his family, is believed to have been the cause of Jameson's action. Jameson had previously borne a good reputation. He is survived by a wife and two children. An inquest will be held in Justice Jarvi's court at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

BRIGHTENING A DARK ROOM

Dark Woodwork Should Not Be Treated and Gloomy Paper Should Be Avoided.

In nearly every city house there is always sure to be one dark and gloomy room. It casts its depression upon all who enter it, and yet one is often at a loss as to what should be done to dissipate the lugubrious effect.

It should be dealt with ruthlessly. White paint and enamel should be used with a generous hand. Dark woodwork should not be tolerated, and dull or gloomy paper should be avoided. Hang the room in a paper of sunny yellow hues, put up only curtains of this tint, and decorate your walls with pictures framed in white and gold and silver gray frames.

Many mirrors, if possible, should be used, for they aid wonderfully in brightening a dark room, but they must not be hung too high, as they will only reflect the ceiling, while they should catch the cheerful flame of an open fire and repeat its gleam.

No one thing is more successful in destroying the depressing atmosphere of a room than an inside window box. This box can be made attractive by a thin covering of brass or copper that will add to the brightness of the room, and the plants should be chosen with an eye to their color.

When the furniture in your dark and depressing room has been covered with a gay cretonne and magazines, books and papers have been strewn about, this room, which filled every one with a feeling of aversion and discomfort, will become the favorite resort of the family.

An Eye-Opener.

A child of strict parents, whose greatest joy had been the weekly prayer meeting, was taken by its nurse to the circus for the first time. When he came home he explained: "Oh, mamma, if you once went to the circus you'd never, never go to prayer meeting again in all your life."—Harper's Magazine.

INTENSELY EXCITING!

In the Face of Pain.

Intensest of bravery in the face of the most intense pain are of daily occurrence, but even in cases of difficult and tedious operations the attention paid to them is slight unless they are undergone as a result of self-sacrifice. A case where a friend sacrifices a few pieces of skin to be grafted on a victim of burns or scalds will be told of at length, while the man who suffers just as much pain from a broken leg is not considered worthy of mention. The man who lies gasping for breath with an attack of intercostal neuralgia is sometimes considered a laughable spectacle, but a sprained and swollen wrist would gain him prompt sympathy and help. The amount of pain that is endured generally is not taken into consideration; the circumstances of the case form the basis for the opinions of the outsider.
